Notes:

Roic entered the Academy immediately at the end of the Dominion War thank you to the patronage of the new Grand Nagus that wanted more Ferengi to serve in Starfleet to learn more about the Federation's customs and habits and to support him in his attempt to reform the Ferengi way of life.

Roic has always been surprisingly big for a Ferengi and majored in tactics and criminal justice. He served his midshipman cruise aboard the USS Manticore and, after graduation, he worked for the JAG office back on Earth.

After two years on Earth and an advanced degree in Security Operations, Roic asked to be transferred to a ship to explore other aspects of the life of a Starfleet Officer.

After a two tour of duty aboard the USS Rapiet and at Starbase 144 Roic applied for a TO spot on the USS Anamudi because he felt he would have been a better fit in the highly diverse crew that was put together for newly built ship.

Roic is extremely inquisitive and a very good detective. He does not mind action, but he hates to have to resort to violence. He is a strong believer in the use technology to solve investigations.

He is extremely skilled in the use of phasers of all forms and type, but he almost never carry them aboard, he is also a relentless Aikido practitioner.
